

Local Banks Swamped With Heavy Trading

Deposits More Than Twice as Great as Withdrawals

Redwood City banks were "wide open" for business Wednesday, and the response of the people was highly satisfactory. Deposits more than doubled withdrawals, and a general spirit of optimism and enthusiasm prevailed.

The banks were swamped with checks accumulated during the two-week holiday, and employees were working until late at night bringing all accounts up to date.

A large per centage of the drafts were for one dollar or less, and the federal two-cent check tax will swell the government treasury considerably. Very few checks were written for amounts over ten dollars.

Little Hoarding

While some gold has come into the banks during the past week, little evidence of actual hoarding has been seen by Edward T. Harrison, vice-president of the First National Bank.

At the San Mateo County Bank, two twenty-dollar gold pieces, dating back to the 80's, were turned in by a woman who had kept them as souvenirs. The bank allowed her to keep the money, however, as gold coins held by collectors is not counted as "hoarded."

The local branch of the Bank of America did a thriving business Wednesday, and the feeling of confidence on the part of depositors throughout the nation will keep growing, in the opinion of J. E. Morris, branch manager.

Remittances Received

The San Mateo County Building and Loan Association also opened Wednesday, and received a large number of remittances for interest and note payments. Requests for withdrawals were few, and deposits were about normal, according to H. W. Schaefer.

The fact that only one bank in San Mateo County failed to open fully Wednesday is pointed to with pride by local bank officials, who believe that the strength of this county's financial institutions has been well demonstrated during the past crises.

Redwood City 30 Years Ago

There will be a free-for-all blue-rock shoot in this city tomorrow afternoon. A number of sports from Menlo Park and Belmont are expected to participate.

Work at the Virginia Mill closed down owing to the recent rains which have done more or less damage to the mill property. The main skidroad has been washed away and also some of the timber.

Miss Annie Botto left last week for Green Springs, El Dorado county, where she has been engaged to teach school. Miss Botto is a graduate of the Redwood City school and of the Normal School at San Jose.

Morris Cooper was transferred to the San Francisco office of the Standard Oil Co. last Saturday and now is able to come home every night. For the past two years Morris has been at Point Richmond, but now Mr. McClintock has taken him into his own office.

Admiral Schley will be the guest of Senator Felton today at Menlo Park and will arrive on the noon train. Great preparations have been made at the Felton home to receive the distinguished guest. In the afternoon he will be shown the points of interest in the locality. The admiral will remain over Sunday.

At the meeting of the improvement club Saturday evening a committee was appointed to meet and act with the Kindergarten Association relative to the holding of a flower show in this city in May. The city council will be advised to secure a rock crusher and quarry to provide material for street improvement.

JAMES SWIFT'S DEATH ENDED USEFUL CAREER

All that was mortal of James V. Swift, long identified with the newspaper and business affairs of Redwood City and San Mateo county, was laid away in Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park, last Monday in the family burial plot. Mount Carmel Church, where the requiem mass was celebrated, was crowded with friends and relatives of the deceased. They came to pay their last respect to an old pioneer and one who was beloved by all.

The honorary pallbearers, close friends and admirers, were George H. Buck, D. E. O'Keefe, A. Robertson, H. W. Schaefer, Edward Stack and A. McSweeney. The active pallbearers were J. Arthur, L. B. Winger, C. Cussen, Carl Mable, George Walsh and J. C. Dickey.

J. V. Swift saw the light of day on his father's farm in the West Union District, which land was bought in 1856. Later the family came to Redwood City to reside. It was here that the deceased carved out his career and by strenuous effort, tenacity of purpose and good management secured a competency which he enjoyed in after years. He was the architect of his own fortune, making his own way in the world unaided.

In January, 1879, when a youth of 16 he entered the office of the Times-Gazette in the capacity of a printer's devil and soon rose to foreman. He mastered every phase of the business and for a time served as editor of the paper. When Ralph Smith, then editor, was shot and killed by one Powell, Mrs. Smith and Swift became editors of the Times-Gazette. Later Mrs. Smith retired and Swift became manager and editor of the paper.

Some years later Swift purchased a half interest in the Democrat, later securing control of that journal which he conducted until he was appointed by President Wilson postmaster of Redwood City. After serving two terms he retired from active business, selling the Democrat to his son, Arthur Swift and James D. Hedge.

During his stay in the Times-Gazette he became a warm friend of Fremont Older, editor of the Call-Bulletin, San Francisco; that friendship stood the test of fifty years. Swift loved the Times-Gazette, where his youth was spent and where he began his career as a writer. At twenty-one he was writing special articles for the San Francisco Chronicle.

Swift was a self-educated man. By hard study he became familiar with the classics and could quote nearly all the poets with comparative ease. He was a literary critic and a writer of more than ordinary ability. Many of his articles appearing in county papers were highly praised by literary critics of high standing.

Mr. Swift had an abiding affection for the Times-Gazette where his youth was passed among happy scenes and with men that afterwards became famous in the newspaper world. A year ago, when the office of the Times-Gazette was remodeled, an old clock that graced the walls of the former office of the old paper when Swift was a youth was given to him at his request as a token of those days of long ago when he was care free and happy. He cherished the ancient time-piece and placed it where he could see it every day to remind him of other days.

Fremont Older, in his book, "Growing Up," says in about his former companion:

"I left Redwood City in the summer of 1884. I had made warm friends of the men I worked with in the Times-Gazette office, especially with James V. Swift. We were friends in our youth and have remained friends for fifty years. Of that group, he and I are the only ones now living. I left Redwood City and he remained there, but our friendship has never been broken. Later, Swift acquired a paper of his own, built it up to a prosperous point and turned it over to his son. He is now retired, passing the evening of his life pleasantly. This friendship that has stood the test of half a century causes me to regret that I haven't established more of them. They soften and enrich life immensely."

Realtors O. K. City Charter Amendments

The Redwood City District Real Estate Board, at a luncheon Tuesday in The Cottage, unanimously approved the two charter amendments to be voted on in Redwood City March 28. Talks on the amendments were made by Mayor W. J. Dusel, Councilman Charles G. Lambert, and City Manager E. A. Rolison.

Following a talk on the necessity for the two proposed amendments to the city charter by Councilman McCarthy Tuesday night, the Redwood City Exchange Club voted to endorse them. The city election is on March 28. The amendments broaden the power of the council in connection with the acquisition, extension or improvement of a public utility, and enable the council to transfer a part of surplus utility earnings to the general fund for the reduction of taxes. The Redwood City District Real Estate Board voted similar endorsement yesterday.

A St. Patrick's Day program was observed last night. John McCarthy presided and showed a reel of motion pictures which he made in Ireland. Dr. Robert Monteith sang two Irish songs. Carroll D. Hall was chairman of the evening. City Manager E. A. Rolison was a guest.

The Redwood City Lions Club Wednesday unanimously voted to go on record as favoring the two proposed amendments to the city charter.

The city election is on March 28. The amendments broaden the power of the council in connection with the acquisition, extension or improvement of a public utility, and enable the council to transfer a part of surplus utility earnings to the general fund for the reduction of taxes.

Thomas W. Cutting, immediate past president, presided as chairman. Dr. August J. Fromm, president, opened the meeting. Glen House and Oswald Speir were guests of the evening.

Mrs. Fred Paletti, who is convalescing at the Palo Alto Hospital after an appendix operation, is expected to return to her home on Laurel avenue, Menlo Park, some time this week.

Throngs Jam Streets for Big 'Opening'

Bargain Prices Lure Out-of-Town Buyers

The business blocks of Redwood City gave the appearance Thursday of boom times.

Throngs of local and out-of-town people milled around the streets and in and out of stores. It is the opening of the Spring Opening event sponsored by the retailers' division of the chamber of commerce.

Crowds of people made themselves at home in the stores all afternoon, waiting for the entertainment scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock. The Sequoia high school 60-piece band paraded through the streets under the direction of Max Geiber.

Living Models Popular

One of the most popular features of the day is the living models—20 pretty girls of this vicinity—who showed the wares of the merchants in the store windows and inside the stores.

The appearance of Redwood City will soon be better than ever, if buying that took place today is any indication.

F. H. Barnickol Of Woodside Is Victim of Death

Fred H. Barnickol, 59, died at his home in Woodside Monday following a short illness.

He was the brother of Louise A. and Elizabeth M. Barnickol of Woodside; J. K. Barnickol of St. Louis, and the late George W. and Ida Barnickol. He was a native of Belleville, Ill.

GETS FINAL DECREE

Mrs. Allene Claire Van Gessel today was granted a final decree of divorce from Edwin H. Van Gessel by Superior Judge Franklin Swart on the ground of cruelty. The couple was married in Berkeley, September 1, 1922, and separated November 1, 1931. Frank Lee Crist of Palo Alto secured the final decree for the plaintiff.

TEACHERS FACE SALARY SLASHES; 'SUBSTANTIAL REDUCTIONS' ASKED

Substantial reductions in all school costs, including the salaries of teachers, principals and superintendents, were recommended Wednesday by the San Mateo County Teachers' Association meeting in San Mateo.

Salary slashes, as first advised by the committee which has been investigating the school finance situation since last year, were fixed at 20 per cent. Action of the entire group last night changed this recommendation to be only "substantial reductions," since many of the smaller could operate only with difficulty in the face of such large cuts.

Seven Resolutions Passed

Seven resolutions were passed by the board. The first advised reduction of all school salaries during the year 1933-34. Separate resolution recommended that superintendents and assistant superintendents, whether under contract or not, be requested to accept reductions in line with those of teachers' salaries.

Employment of instructors by more than one school district where the teacher was on a full-time basis with one district, would be abolished. It was also advised that employees of school districts should be the heads of families, sole support of families, or self-supporting.

Operating Cost Reduction

All operating costs, not covered by salaries, were also recommended to be reduced. This reduction was originally set at 10 per cent, but later modified the same as the salaries.

The association went on record as being opposed to the teachers' tenure law which assures California instructors of permanent employment in a school district after three years of service.

Physical education departments in high schools were advised to abandon their emphasis on individual teams. The committee believes this would introduce better sportsmanship and eliminate all traces of professionalism.

Committee Appointment

It was voted by the association to have the president, Mrs. L. G. Owen of San Mateo, appoint a committee to investigate teachers' salaries throughout the county. Mrs. Owen said today that this investigation would probably take a year.

Two local men, W. W. Hilton of the Sequoia high school district and C. M. Duxee of the elementary district, were on the committee which presented the resolutions.

City Dry Act Will Prevent Sale of Beer

Local Measure Bans Beverages Above 1/2 Per Cent

The brewers have announced that millions of barrels of beer, properly aged and having the right alcoholic content, would be available at retail 24 hours after legalization.

But even if such brew is authorized by Uncle Sam, not a drop of it may legally be sold in Redwood City unless the city's "little Volstead act" is amended or repealed.

The local dry act, passed in 1921, prohibits the sale or possession of beverage with more than one-half of one per cent alcoholic content.

25 Cents a Quart

If the sale of beer is made legal here, the price will probably be 15 cents for a pint-size stein, or two pints for 25 cents when bought to take home, according to local retailers. While it is possible that rates may be cut to 10 cents a glass, this is said to be unlikely because of the high government tax, estimated to yield $150,000,000 yearly.

Places which now sell and serve soft drinks will probably dispense the beer legalized. Merchants point out that so-called "bootlegging" places will still find beer business brisk if and when beer is legalized. The new law will make the public "beer conscious," they claim, and make prosperous the sellers of beverages with illicitly high alcoholic content.

Jurors Allow $10,000 Here In Brief Time

Eighteen minutes after getting the case jury in Superior Judge Franklin Swart's court late Tuesday awarded $10,000 damages to Mrs. Grace Toutsch of Railroad Flat, Calaveras county, for injuries incurred in a San Francisco bay bridge automobile accident last June.

The damages were assessed against Howard J. Quinn, driver of one of the two cars involved, and G. M. Todhunter, owner of the car driven by Quinn.

Quinn and Todhunter have a string of dogs which are raced at Belmont.

The accident in which Mrs. Toutsch was injured occurred between two cars passing in the opposite directions on the San Mateo bay bridge June 28, 1932. Mrs. Toutsch was riding with her husband, M. B. Toutsch, and Quinn, Todhunter and three "John Does" were riding in the other car.

Mrs. Toutsch suffered injuries to her back, nervous system and face and body.

Her suit, filed by Attorney Norman S. Menefee, asked $15,000.

$100 FOR JOBS

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 13.—The South San Francisco Women's Club has turned over $100 to the chamber of commerce unemployment relief fund, it was announced today.

Will Redwood City streets look like this soon? The "Good Old Days" pictured above may again be with us if the present liquor bill passes congress and receives President Roosevelt's signature. Then when the California legislature enacts state beer laws, and provision is made for local distribution, all will be ready for "Easter beer."

Many Attend Alan Curran's Final Rites

On Saturday last Mount Carmel church was crowded with the friends of Alan Edgar Curran, who passed away on March 9 following injuries received in an automobile accident. After the requiem mass the mortal remains were conveyed to Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park, and placed beside those of his father, who predeceased him some years ago.

The following young men, who loved and admired the youth, acted as pallbearers: Mark Ryan, Frank Coelho, Oliver Seely, Robert Seely, Donald Hinchman, Carol Hinman, Harold Munday, Chester Williamson and Arnold Jansing.

Death is sad at all times but more so when it removes in the morning of life a young man of promise and courage such as Alan was. Those who knew him loved him for his kindness and unusual happy personality. His youthful friends admired him for his frank and genial disposition. Long will he remain in the memory of these young men.

Alan was born at Palo Alto on November 7, 1911, and was a graduate of Sequoia High School and for some years was connected with the Bank of America. Alan had the happy faculty of making friends; had high ideals and lofty aspirations and had he lived would have carved out a successful career for himself in this world; but an All Wise Providence wanted him and he ascended to realms beyond the skies in response to the summons.

The sympathy of the whole community goes out to the mother, Mrs. Alice Curran, in her great bereavement. "Can the human heart refrain from partaking of her pain, in that mother's pain untold?" She has the consolation of knowing that the parting is not final; that she will be united with him, some day, in that heavenly abode above where there shall be no parting.

Alan was the idol of his home surroundings, the favorite of his young friends, who were shocked to learn of his demise and who will cherish his memory as long as life lasts. He was their ideal of manliness and courage. His sudden death has been a distinct shock to his family and friends.

Besides his mother, he is survived by his sister, Miss Lois Curran.

Market Robbed of Food, Burlingame

BURLINGAME, Mar. 15.—Sixty pennies lost and a meal of liverwurst, bologna and six raw eggs were enjoyed here last night at the expense of Earl Schmidt, proprietor of a Broadway market, police were informed today. The burglary was that of the National Meat Market, 1238 Broadway.

Sea Highway, Cross-County Roads Favored

However, R. C.-to-Sea Route Rejected For Time

Success marked the county of San Mateo's appeal to the state highway commission to have its major cross-county roads taken into the state's secondary system, Hugh Pomeroy, advisor to the San Mateo County Planning Commission, reported today.

Of outstanding importance is the state's acceptance of the proposed $5,000,000 scenic Ocean Shore highway from the San Francisco to the Santa Cruz county lines as one of the secondary projects.

Also of importance is the state's acceptance of the Half Moon Bay-San Mateo road; the Alpine-Portola road from Menlo Park, and the state highway sections through Redwood City, San Mateo and Burlingame.

Rejected for the time being were the Redwood City to the Sea highway, the Grand avenue-Mission road link in South San Francisco, and the Sausal Creek road link with the California Redwood Park near the Santa Cruz line.

Mileage taken into the secondary system totals 84 out of 118 asked, Pomeroy reports. This is believed to place this county far ahead of any other county in the state for a single achievement.

The commission, Pomeroy said, recognized the importance of the Redwood City to the Sea road, but its nearness to the Alpine-Portola road barred its consideration at this time.

This road would have utilized the Woodside, La Honda, Haskins Hill and Pescadero roads as a link between this city and the Pacific Ocean.

The Alpine-Portola road had previously been partially accepted by the commission from the Portola road to the Skyline. It now will take in Santa Cruz avenue or some other thoroughfare in Menlo Park and will join with Willow road and the Dumbarton bridge.

The Half Moon Bay road, also partially accepted, will now include that portion from the Skyline boulevard to the Bayshore highway in San Mateo.

Recommendations of the commission will now go to the legislature for approval. Success of the county's road program depends on two things, Pomeroy said. One is failure of the plans to divert the gasoline tax moneys, and secondly, acceptance of the proposed 6800 miles of secondary roads in this biennium. If less is accepted, part of the county's program may be curtailed, he said.

Auto Parking Plans Being Aired Here

A plan to relieve congested parking conditions on Broadway, between the railroad tracks and El Camino Real, is now receiving the attention of the chamber of commerce, city officials and interested merchants.

City Engineer C. L. Dimmitt and City Manager E. A. Rolison, working in conjunction with the chamber of commerce traffic committee, have prepared a map showing five suggested parking areas.

Area A is bounded by Perry street and the alley which runs from Brewster to Perry. There is space there for approximately 50 automobiles. It is thought that the merchants on Broadway may desire to secure the use of this property by co-operating in the incidental expenses, and issue parking checks to patrons of their stores.

It is also suggested that merchants whose stores have rear entrances upon the alley may wish to improve the appearance of their premises there, so that shoppers may use either the front or back doors.

Area B is a lot on El Camino Real at Montgomery street, which would hold about 20 cars.

Area C is a strip of Southern Pacific property on Perry street at Broadway, which would be marked for 18 cars.

Area D, at California and Montgomery streets, on railroad property, would be primarily for the autos of merchants, employees and other business men.

Area E is a lot adjoining the new theatre at California and Montgomery streets, and is suggested as a place for theatre parking.

However, Areas A, B and C are of particular interest to the chamber of commerce, traffic committee and merchants.

Swift Estate Put On File in Court

Late yesterday afternoon James T. O'Keefe filed in the county clerk's office the last will and testament of James V. Swift.

The bulk of the property is left to Arthur V. Swift and Mrs. Eileen McCormick, children of the deceased. Small bequests are made to the grand children of testator. The will was executed on September 3, 1932. The value of the estate exceeds the sum of $10,000 in value.

McWilliams Capable For Post He Seeks

R. L. McWilliams, the attorney of San Mateo and San Francisco, is a candidate for trustee of the San Mateo Union High School district, having filed his petition on Monday last. McWilliams is a popular citizen and a capable man and should make a successful run for the position.

Child's Injuries in Crash Bring Suit

Dorothy Donaldson, under 14, today is seeking $10,000 damages for injuries incurred by her in an automobile collision on the Bayshore highway near Redwood City on May 25, 1932. The suit is brought by her father, Everett Donaldson, against Sam Jacobson, Carl W. Anderson of Burlingame is plaintiff's counsel.

Gazette Mourns Swift

The Times-Gazette mourns for James V. Swift because he was identified with it in its early career for more than a quarter of a century and through his efforts in those days assisted in making the paper the most influential journal in the county.

Swift had a strong affection for the old paper and down through the years that love increased. It was his Alma Mater where he spent his youth, began his career as a writer and boomed forth as an editor of influence and ability. In his reminiscent moods he would tell of the happy days spent within the walls of the ancient toffice and recount incidents, now forgotten, that would make splendid reading today. As a boy he learned the printer's trade and by hard study soon became a trenchant writer. Swift sought other fields of activity but always retained his love for the place he learned to set type. The files of the Times-Gazette contain many articles written by him. Those files are to be preserved for all time, so those who may read them will peruse Swift's writings with much delight and pleasure. His writings were always full of sentiment and good common sense that brought joy to the reader.

J. V. Swift is no more, his pen has been laid aside for ever. His beloved Times-Gazette, like Alfred Tennyson's brook, will go on forever.

McGrath Backs Economies

A wire from Congressman John J. McGrath to Charles H. Spinks of Los Altos stresses the importance of unqualified support of President Roosevelt's economy plan. The text of his telegram is as follows:

"The primary duty of every American is to support President Roosevelt as he gives us the leadership which we have so desperately needed. He is restoring the courage and hopes of our people. The present situation could scarcely be more serious and it demands the most extreme measures. There is an accumulated deficit from the past three fiscal years and several billions of governmental refinancing must be taken care of in April. Present deficit is increasing by five millions daily. If President Roosevelt's plans fail the whole credit structure may collapse. I shall support the program of President Roosevelt without reserve as long as the emergency lasts. There is no time for delay.

"If injustices should develop in details of measures enacted in this tragic crisis I feel sure the president will correct them. If justice is not then secured I will bend every effort to secure such amendments as may meet the situation.

(Signed) JOHN J. McGRATH."

The Menlo Park City Council did not hold a meeting Tuesday evening as scheduled for the reason that there was no quorum. An adjournment was taken to the next regular meeting, March 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Crane much worried for a while last week when news of the earthquake at Long Beach reached here. Their son, Howard, and his little daughter left Menlo Park a few days before the temblor for their home there. They reached the home in time to see it go down. A telephone message from the son brought news of his safety.

Mrs. D. E. Sullivan had her knee cap badly wrenched Tuesday morning while attempting to catch a north-bound train. In running she slipped and fell heavily to the ground. Mrs. Sullivan is a dramatic teacher in several schools in San Francisco and commutes for her home here. Her knee is to be in a cast for three weeks.

The rain fall for the recent storm was 37 of an inch, making a total of 8.94 inches for the season as against 15.23 inches at this time last year.

The St. Patrick's Day celebration in the Hall of the Nativity last evening was largely attended. In fact it was a record breaker, perhaps the largest gathering that ever attended a celebration here. The program was excellent and enjoyed by all.

On Sunday, March 19, at 3 p. m., three young ladies will receive their habit of St. Dominic at Corpus Christi Convent, Menlo Park. All the friends of the Monastery are cordially invited to attend.
